Bandits Raid Billy Rose Home And Grab $100,000 in Loot

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Bandits raided the fashionable home of show-man Billy Rose last night, toted off a safe, furs and jewelry valued at $100,000 but missed $250,000 in other gems being worn by Rose's wife, former swim champion Eleanor Holm.

Miss Holm learned of the theft early today when she returned from the theater wearing jewelry valued by her husband at a quarter of a million dollars.

"I'm glad baby had her war paint on tonight," said Rose in putting the $250,000 price tag on Miss Holm's necklace, a bracelet and a ring of shimmering diamonds she was wearing. They had attended the premiere of Shakespeare's "As You Like It" starring Katharine Hepburn.

Police said three men shouldered their way into the Rose town house at 33 Beekman Place late last night, tied up the sole occupant—a Negro butler—and carted away the jewelry-laden safe and furs.

Rose, a newspaper columnist, as well as a safe owner, said the bandits left undisturbed a $500,000 collection of paintings, and $75,000 worth of antique silver.

James McDonald, the butler, said he answered a knock at the door, and was told by one of the three men that they had come to

Broad Church Service Proposed at Meeting

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Home Missions Congress, representing 23 major Protestant denominations, today will act on a number of recommendations affecting city and rural church members.

The suggestions were crystallized at a number of seminars which explored problems of church goers in various walks of life.

One resolution will ask all members of the Congress—which ends today—to recommend favorable action on a bill to create a fair employment practices commission.

Appeal to Congress

An amendment to the resolution, adopted yesterday, calls for a telegram to house speaker Sam Rayburn and for letters to Congress.

Other recommendations which will come up for action would:

- (1) Favor extension of social security benefits to farm workers;
- (2) Recommend techniques for evangelizing Jews who don't belong to any church be developed;
- (3) Encourage church members to change denominations if they move and can't find a church of their denomination in the new community;

- (4) Establish community churches (no denomination) in industrial and mining areas, and
- (5) Encourage rural churches to aid young couples in settling on the land through loans, reduced land prices, and other means.

Plans to carry religion into the homes of low-income workers who seldom attend church have been studied in seminars.

Speakers Heard

Last night the delegates heard the Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton of New York City, secretary of the General Council of the Congregational Christian Churches, and Professor H. Gordon Hullfish of Ohio State University.

Dr. Horton attacked segregation as "the most imposing of all monuments to intolerance." Segregation, like totalitarianism abroad, he said, denies human rights in the sight of God.

Prof. Hullfish said people who fail to cooperate sell democracy short.

"The free man secures his freedom as he joins with others to seek the good of life, not as he indulges his own fancy and power," he said.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

This is a thumbnail sketch about another Fayette County boy who made good in his chosen field of work—Leonard P. Miller, educator.

He is a product of Jeffersonville High School. He was awarded his diploma at the start of those turbulent years right after the close of the first World War.

From there he went to Miami University where he got his AB degree, majoring in education and foreign languages. His minors were history and business administration. As a sideline, he was on the varsity boxing team.

He grew up on a farm on the Harold Pike near Jeffersonville and his interest in agriculture has always been reflected in his profession.

He began his career as the one-man faculty of the Edgely school, teaching 32 classes a day. Today he is the principal of Emma High School, near Asheville, N. C., but that's only part of the story.

Since he left Fayette County, he has spent much time in North Carolina—always as an educator.

In 1926, he started as a teacher of foreign languages and history at Black Mountain High School. The following year he went to Biltmore High School where he remained for 13 years, teaching mathematics, science, languages, history and business subjects. Besides, he taught Spanish and French at Biltmore College and coached boxing at both the high school and college.

During the summers, he organized and personally conducted trans-continental bus tours of four to six weeks for high school boys and girls.

Despite his intensive work, both in the classrooms and outside, he rose to the principalship of the Biltmore and French Broad High Schools before going to Emma.

So outstanding has been Leonard Miller's career in North Carolina that the Asheville News carried a two column "personality" story about him.

He has many relatives and many more old friends in Fayette County with whom he keeps in contact through periodical visits "back home." He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Miller. Mrs. Miller is dead, but his father spends part of the time with a daughter, Mrs. Otis Straley near Sedalia and part with another daughter, Mrs. Vernon Clute in Asheville. His other daughter, Mrs. Leo Wilt lives at Jeffersonville and a son, Carl Miller, is in Columbus.

Five Children Burn Locked Up in House

LAWTON, Okla., Jan. 27.—(AP)—Five small children burned to death alone in their flimsy two-room frame home here yesterday. The structure's only door accidentally became locked and thwarted frantic rescue efforts by their 23-year-old mother.

Seven persons escaped unhurt from another two-room hut jammed against the burning building. The victims, ranging from two months to six years old, were the children of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Young.

Mrs. Young said she stepped out into the yard to get water from a hydrant and stopped a few minutes to talk with a neighbor. Then the frantic screams from her children brought her racing to the door, only to find the inside wooden latch had dropped into place.

She tried to reach the crying children by breaking windows, but each time the heat drove her and helping neighbors back.

Tucker Is Saved When Friend Pays

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Preston L. Tucker, who promoted a $28,000,000 automobile manufacturing enterprise, was saved from a jail sentence yesterday after friends paid a $1,700 debt.

Tucker, head of the bankrupt Tucker Corporation, and seven associates last Sunday were acquitted in federal court of mail fraud and conspiracy charges.

Tucker was in the custody of a municipal court bailiff for three hours yesterday while his friends obtained enough money to satisfy a judgment. He was ordered detained for failing to pay $3,567 to Mrs. Justina C. Perkins of Noblesville, Ind.

Mrs. Perkins claimed Tucker owed her part of the purchase price for a farm he had bought in 1935.

Americans Headhunters' 'Sacrifice'

MANILA, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Two U. S. professors, hacked to death on a hiking tour, may have been the "blood sacrifice" of primitive tribesmen. The superstitious natives were trying to restore the fertility of their barren soil by this slaughter.

This is the strange, blood-chilling story that reached the U. S. Embassy today from the old head-hunting land 150 miles north of Manila.

Robert F. Conklin and Marvin Pittman, members of the Philippines University staff, were slain with spears and knives on a lonely mountain trail Christmas day. Robbery at first was given as the motive.

James L. Meader, public affairs officer of the embassy, said the new version was brought in by investigators who questioned six Ifugao tribesmen charged with the killings.

By this account, the professors wandered into a primitive village at the wrong time. The tribe was holding a meeting. Witch doctors were looking for someone to sacri-

Conscience Clear After 29 Years

CLEVELAND, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A Pennsylvanian's conscience was at ease today after troubling him for 21 years. A 1929 robbery indictment against Eugene Fleming of Scottsdale, Pa., has been cleared from court records.

Fleming, 49, gave himself up here last week after skipping a $15,000 bond 21 years ago while awaiting trial. During this time he had gone to Scottsdale, raised a family and become a respected member of the community.

Gassed in World War I, he enlisted in the army during World War II and was wounded in Europe.

But the old charge against him still pressed on his conscience, Fleming said, so he came to Cleveland to clear his name.

Yesterday Common Pleas Judge Arthur H. Day wrote "dismissed for want of prosecution" on the case after Gus Ziviskos, whose restaurant Fleming was accused of victimizing, refused to push the charge.

Inventor Dies

CINCINNATI, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Charles H. Fox, 89, said by some to have built the first gasoline powered fire engine, died yesterday.

He had been in poor health for some time.

He was born in 1861 and lived in Cincinnati for most of his life.

He was a member of the American Inventors Association and the National Inventors Hall of Fame.

Case Is New President Of Historical Society

JOHN P. CASE

John P. Case, of Washington C. H., who is attorney-examiner for the Ohio Public Utilities Commission, is the new head of the Fayette County Historical Society.

Case was elected at the annual meeting of the society held in Memorial Hall Thursday night.

The meeting was attended by a sizeable representative group of citizens from all over the county.

Case succeeds Harold Craig, who asked to be relieved of the presidency, due to other duties.

Miss Edith Gardner was re-elected vice president; B. E. Kelley, secretary and Miss Elizabeth Johnson, treasurer.

The same board of directors is to carry over during the year. They are: Case, Kelley, Howard Allen, Harold Craig, Chester Zimmerman, Valdo R. McCoy, Rell G.

Catholic Girls Make Appeal for Modest Clothing

AKRON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Roman Catholic girls here are asking Akron's saleswomen and store buyers to offer more modest clothing. The girls are in a drive here to change the fashion tastes of the general public as well as their own.

No. 1 on their list of demanded changes is clothing. They want such articles as skimpy bathing suits, tight sweaters and play suits toned down.

Then they plan to attack what they consider indecent love story magazines and dirty jokes.

A pledge of modesty and morality will be asked of all Catholic girls here at the feast of purification next Thursday. In the van of the crusade are more than 200 Catholic high school girls of St. Mary's and St. Vincent's schools. They met yesterday to chart the purity campaign.

Mrs. America's Husband Now in Columbus Jail

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Marion S. Pollock, 32-year-old husband of "Mrs. America of 1946" pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of cashing checks without sufficient funds.

Mrs. Pollock, who turned down the beauty honor because it entailed a six-week trip away from her children, is suing for a divorce.

Pollock was returned Tuesday from New York. Chicago police reported they hold a similar check charge against Pollock. He is held in city prison under $5,000 bond.

Arms-to-Europe Program Is Now Put into Effect

Agreement Signed With U. S. by Eight Overseas Allies

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The United States and eight North Atlantic allies signed agreements today that will govern the flow of $1,000,000,000 worth of American arms to western Europe's defenses against possible Russian attack.

It was the last step—but one before guns, tanks, planes, ships and raw materials begin moving under the aid program Congress approved last year.

The final step is President Truman's approval of the secret master defense plan worked out last month by military chiefs of the 12 Atlantic Pact countries. That is expected momentarily.

The master defense plan will be kept secret.

But the state department made public the texts of the separate aid agreements made with each nation when they were signed by the ambassadors of each at the department.

The amount of American military aid each nation is to get was not mentioned.

Most Goes to France

But it is known that the largest share of the American weapons and raw materials will go to France.

Countries signing agreements in addition to France are Britain, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Denmark and Norway.

The language of each country's agreement varies, but the main commitments are identical.

These provide that all countries will pool their defense plans to defend western Europe against any attack and that no arms furnished them will be turned over to any nation "without the prior consent" of the United States.

Britain, whose objections to American terms delayed the negotiations, was listed as first to sign, with Ambassador Oliver Franks initiating the agreement in the morning before leaving for consultations in London.

France is to get the biggest chunk of American military help because in any Russian attack on western Europe its army would be expected to bear the brunt of the initial defense.

Terms of Agreement

While terms of the agreements were kept secret before the signing, officials said in advance that these are the main provisions:

1. Each country pledges to use American military help only for

Ohio Sales Tax Yield

Down in Last 6 Months

COLUMBUS, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The state of Ohio collected $73,244,118 in sales tax receipts during the six and one-half months ended Jan. 14, State Treasurer Don H. Ebricht said yesterday.

Collections were more than $6,000,000 below those for the same period the previous year, his reports show.

13 Die in French Mine

ST. ELOY, France, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A violent underground blast killed 13 coal miners yesterday and sent 20 others to the hospital with gas poisoning.

$420,000 Worth of Jewels Stolen from Aga Khan Back

MARSEILLE, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Half of the Aga Khan's stolen fortune in jewelry—$420,000 worth of the gems—turned up mysteriously on a police station doorstep last night.

French police, looking for the last six months for Tommy-guns who held up the Moslem leader on a Riviera highway last Aug. 3, found the valuables in a package outside the ninth police brigade station here after an anonymous telephone tip-off.

The police first estimated the find at $280,000 in value. Three experts, hurriedly summoned, raised the appraisal to $420,000.

Investigators announced no theories as to who tossed the mysterious package. Presumably it came from one of the holdup gang, possibly alarmed by a series of arrests recently.

Berlin Airlift Looming with New Blockade

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The western powers once again may slap on a counter-blockade against eastern Germany if the Russian strangling of Berlin highway traffic continues American officials today.

Some sort of economic reprisal will be threatened, these officials predicted. Strong efforts to break the "creeping blockade" of this Soviet-encircled city are expected to be considered at the high commission level.

Initial moves would await the return of the U. S. High Commissioner, John J. McCloy, from a brief official visit to the United States. In Boston last night McCloy told reporters if the Russians impose a complete blockade the Berlin airlift once again will roar into action.

Officials were gloomy about the prospects of an early end to the Soviet hamstringing tactics against truck traffic.

Colder Weather Ends Rain Here

Blizzards in West But Warm in East

Fayette County residents slept under extra blankets again Thursday night after a spell of balmy weather, which was the weatherman's order earlier in the week.

The mercury took a dive to end a rainfall in Washington C. H., which totaled almost an inch Thursday. At 8 A. M. Friday, the mercury stood at 22, also the low for the night.

There was prospect of continued cold both tonight and Saturday. The maximum Thursday was but 32. This was a sudden change from temperatures of 74 recorded during the "spring" weather which prevailed earlier in the week.

(By The Associated Press)

The late January preview of spring in most of the eastern and southern states appeared nearing an end today.

A blanket of cold air from the chilled midwest spread across the Ohio River valley and pushed eastward toward the Atlantic seaboard. Some of the cold air was expected to dip into the gulf coast and send temperatures back to near seasonal levels.

Still Cold in West

The cold weather still gripped wide areas in the western half of the country. Temperatures moderated over the plains and some of the north central states but they remained far below zero in many areas.

Montana, one of the coldest spots in the current icy weather, was getting out of the deep-freeze and an end of the sub zero blasts was in sight.

But the mercury was at a biting 30 below zero in North Dakota and between 20 and 30 below over that state and Minnesota during the night. In the Dakotas and Minnesota only one weather bureau station, Rapid City, S. D., with 9 above, reported a reading above zero. The low at Minneapolis was -21.

The cold air already had dipped into Arkansas and other parts of the south. Freezing rain fell over northern Arkansas and glazed highways. There also was some freezing rain on the northern fringe of a narrow belt of precipitation.

Way Is Opened For Return to Work Next Week

Lewis and Owners May Renew Contract Negotiations Soon

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—(AP)—The Senate labor committee today pigeon-holed a resolution asking that President Truman invoke the Taft-Hartley law to restore full production.

A motion to postpone action indefinitely was approved 6-5.

Senator Aiken (R-Vt.), who was on the losing side, said the decision amount to killing the resolution.

But Senator Elbert D. Thomas (D-Utah), the committee chairman, and Humphrey (D-Minn.) disagreed. They said it did not necessarily mean there would be no action at some time in the future.

The motion to postpone action indefinitely was offered by Humphrey as a substitute to a motion by Senator Donnell (R-Mo.) that the committee approve the resolution.

Humphrey argued that action should be deferred because "negotiations are underway" looking toward a settlement of the coal dispute.

Maneuvers toward that possibility are underway. Their results may be to get soft coal workers back to work, at least part time, and perhaps help John L. Lewis in his legal complications.

End in Sight

George H. Love, president of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company and, as such, a leader in the operator ranks, said at Pittsburgh he believed operators will agree to resuming contract talks.

President Lewis of the United Mine Workers next Wednesday.

Love was commenting on Lewis' quick reply of a qualified invitation Love had made that negotiations in the strike-plagued industry be resumed. It was Lewis who suggested the Wednesday date.

President Truman found his own position relieved. He had been reported about ready to use the Taft-Hartley Act's emergency machinery for stopping a coal strike, if no agreement was reached this week-end to restore production by Lewis' miners.

Many Complications

The operators had broken off contract negotiations during the strike Lewis called in October. Since then the mine owners sought a court injunction against Lewis' three-day work week, saying Lewis refused to bargain in good faith and was using the short week to force them into an illegal contract. A hearing on that is scheduled next Wednesday morning.

Lewis would re-open negotiations at the same hour.

The coincidence of timing could be due to plans for Lewis to bulwark any denial that he has not been willing to bargain in good faith.

The possibility was clear, too, that miners who have been observing a "no day week" might decide to go back to work for at least three days a week now that negotiations are in prospect.

In his letter to Lewis suggesting that negotiations be resumed, Love asked the United Mine Workers' chief to wipe out the clause saying miners would work only when "able and willing." He suggested that Lewis might agree to a stipulation that operators themselves would decide when their mines could be worked.

Lewis said he was willing to resume negotiations without "stipulation, qualification or commitment."

Robert N. Denham, counsel for the NLRB who has gone to court in the operators' plea that Lewis was engaged in an unfair labor practice, said of the latest developments:

"If Lewis and the operators can sit down and work out a legal agreement, nobody will support them faster than I will."

tation from New York and Pennsylvania southwestward across Kentucky to the coastal region of Texas.

Freezing rains were forecast for the Columbia River gorge in the "bad weather spot" in the Pacific northwest.

Below freezing again was forecast for southern California's citrus areas but warmer weather was in prospect later today.

Mild Weather in East

But mild weather east of the Appalachian Mountains again yesterday continued to amaze the people and even fool the animals. Record readings for the date and for the winter season were set in many cities.

In a Philadelphia zoo, ground-hogs, turtles and snakes—not calendar readers—came out of hibernation. Girls took sunbaths on rooftops.

Bees buzzed around a honey-suckle bush in full bloom in Towson, Md. Japanese beetles, a mid-summer pest, appeared near Frederick, Md.

The New Jersey State Health Department warmed by readings in the 70's, issued a list of hints on "How To Avoid Heat Prostration." The weather bureau's bulletin indicated the release was premature with a forecast of temperatures in the mid 40's today.

All-time winter heat records were set in Boston yesterday when the mercury climbed to 72.

New York City, reporting a record breaking January mark of 70.5 was expecting lower readings today.

In Baltimore, the top mark was 79 and Philadelphia reported an all-time January high of 73.2. Washington basked in 79-degree heat and Atlanta's 77 was five degrees above the previous record for Jan. 26.

But indications were high readings will tumble. In Chicago, where a record high of 67 was set Wednesday, the mercury had dropped nearly 60 degrees in 40 hours and was heading for the zero mark.

Grain Market

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—(AP)—Grains slumped toward the close on the Board of trade today, winding up a dull day which saw few price changes.

During early dealings wheat showed a slight amount of strength while corn eased. But wheat also backed down late in the day. On both the upside and downside trading went on at a slow pace.

Cash dealers reported bookings of 81,000 bushels of corn, the largest of the week. It will mean more receipts in the future, dealers said.

Financial Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 27.—(AP)—A quiet rally followed a mild early decline in the stock market today.

Prices responded easily to small buy or sell orders, with traders showing little disposition to take an aggressive stand either way.

Few issues moved more than minor fractions. Gains and losses were thoroughly mixed.

The ticker tape took long and frequent rests as turnover dropped to one of the slowest rates of the year.

The Nation Today

Associated Press Aviation Reporter
(For James Marlow)

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 27—(AP)—The case of the window washer is one of the tough ones under the new wage-hour law.

A window washer doing his job in a building where there were firms engaged in interstate commerce was held to be covered by the old law.

Now he may be exempt. But nobody's too sure about it.

The doubt comes from the changed definition of who is and who isn't covered. A worker covered by the law must get at least the new 75-cent hourly minimum wage, plus overtime pay at time and half for every hour he works over 40 a week.

The original law said workers were covered if they were engaged in commerce between states or in production of goods from such commerce. It also covered workers "necessary to the production" of goods for interstate commerce.

There were some specific exemptions written into the law but that was under rule.

Under the new law workers still covered if they are engaged in commerce or production of goods for commerce.

(Still covered, too, are workers of an employer whose product, even though sold within one state, later gets shipped across state lines as an ingredient of another employer's product.)

But—there is one big change. No longer does the law affect those workers whose jobs are "necessary for production of goods" for interstate commerce.

Instead of that, Congress applied the new law to workers engaged in a "closely related process or occupation directly essential to the production" of goods for interstate commerce.

Now back to the window washer. His job was held to be "necessary to the production of goods" for commerce under the old law. Will his job be "directly essential to the production of goods" for commerce under the new law?

Most people think not. But it's still a question. Why? Because the congressmen who had most to do with the final version of the new law put out a statement containing an apparent conflict. This statement is not part of the law but it's a clue the courts will use when in doubt about what Congress meant.

This statement says in one place that maintenance, custodial and clerical workers of firms in interstate commerce are still covered—even though actually employed by an outsider to do that sort of work for an interstate firm.

But in another place the statement says Congress intended to exempt a window washer employed by a local firm to clear windows for firms engaged in interstate commerce.

Thus the case of the window washer may wind up in the courts. In other cases, a lot depends on what an employee does and how it relates to his employer's business.

For example, the man who mows the lawn outside a factory was covered by the old law. He probably isn't under the new one, because his job appears only remotely—not "closely"—connected to interstate commerce.

But a man who sweeps trash from around machines so they can be kept producing efficiently might be deemed "closely related" or "directly essential" to production.

Here's another change in the new law:

Coverage formerly applied to any firm shipping "from any state to any place outside" that state. Now it applies to any firm shipping "between any state and any place outside" that state.

This two-word difference means that importing firms, handling goods from foreign countries, are now covered where they were previously exempt. Exporting firms still are covered, as before.

In addition, Congress for the first time defined what it means by saying a worker must get 1 1/2 times his "regular rate" for hours he works overtime.

Regular rate now is defined to exclude gifts, bonuses, certain premium payments, payments for vacation and illness, and other types of payments unrelated to straight pay for employment.

But say most workers in a plant get $1 an hour for a certain type of work, while the man who does the same work at night gets $1.10 what's the night worker's regular rate?

It's $1.10, says the wage-hour administration. For every hour he works overtime he'll collect $1.65—or time and a half on his $1.10 wage.

Flier Best Man As Ex-wife Weds

Public Not Likely To Follow Suggestion

Reports of the possibility of a telephone strike are now much in the news.

If such a strike should occur and it extended to Washington C. H. and the rest of Fayette County, we wonder how many people here realize how much they would be inconvenienced. Every other community would be in a predicament if telephone service should be seriously hampered.

We hope such a strike does not happen. The general public is beginning to serve notice that it is getting "fed up" with strikes and some of these days the people are going to do something about it.

There is another way to settle most of these questions than through a constant interruption of business, first in one line and then in another. Too many innocent people are victims.

A new idea in strike technique appears to have been evolved by the Communications Workers of America, contemplating this nationwide telephone strike. The idea is that the union would ask the aid of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, (CIO) with which it is affiliated, and the general public toward producing a flood of telephone calls during the strike. The purpose would be to jam automatic equipment, capable of providing service to the public for a limited time without the attention of the striking employees, and cause it to break down as soon as possible.

As far as questions of right are concerned, this would probably be no different in principle from the use of a picket line to prevent a struck plant from carrying on its usual operations or services. The observer is bound to wonder whether the union officials aren't somewhat over-optimistic in supposing that they would be able to rally the cooperation of the public in such an enterprise, which from the public viewpoint could aptly be described as cutting off the nose to spite the face. Members of affiliated unions might find themselves hard put to decide, in such a case, whether they were first sympathizers with the strikers or members of the affected public.

From one standpoint it might be valuable to have this scheme put to the test. It might give many individuals who have never before done so an occasion to pause and consider thoughtfully their own personal stake in someone else's strike. It might provide an inkling as to how much of the public will lend its support to a strike, or how much antagonism it will arouse.

"What Road Is That?"

"Dad, what railroad is that?"

The small boy, looking out of the car window, had been watching a parallel track that ran along for miles, but nowhere with any indication of its name.

"I don't know, Johnny," replied his father. "I've ridden over this road many a time, but I never did happen to find out what that other line was".

"Wouldn't you think, Dad, that they would put their name somewhere, on a bridge or post or something? Why don't they?"

The small boy's question remained unanswered. Many American railroads complain that they are losing money. Other businesses in the same plight ask if their advertising department is doing all it should. Railroads have a chance to put their names before the public cheaply, merely by painting their names along their rights of way, where they could be seen. Who has not crossed a set of tracks in the open country without having the least notion what line that was? Is there any rule against having a name painted on a post?

Other great businesses spend millions to get their names before the public, and have found that it pays to advertise. Why do not the railroads take advantage of this opportunity?

Diet and Health New Drug Helpful Fighting Infection

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

IN the past, infections of the urinary tract, particularly with germs in the group known as bacillus coli, have proved difficult to control. But, fortunately, today, it would seem that we have a valuable weapon against such stubborn infections of the kidney and bladder in the new antibiotic, aureomycin. Where all other measures fail, aureomycin is frequently highly successful.

Often, these urinary tract infections are associated with long-standing infections of the prostate gland, or infections elsewhere in the body.

Focal Infections

While the aureomycin cannot be expected to eliminate these focal infections, it does seem to bring dramatic relief from the bladder symptoms, that is, painful or frequent emptying of the bladder. It has also been suggested that the aureomycin be given for a few days before and after a week after operation on the prostate gland, in order to control the bladder infection which frequently follows these operations.

The treatment was carried out

on ten patients and good results were obtained in all of these.

Aureomycin is easily administered. It is taken by mouth. No upset stomach occurred as a result of the use of the drug as now made. In one patient, a skin rash developed which promptly disappeared when the treatment was stopped.

When treatment is discontinued, reinfection sometimes occurs, particularly if the original source of the infection has not been cleared up. In such cases, a second course of treatment may be necessary. It is possible that the continued use of the preparation in reduced dosages may keep such infections from recurring.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Mother: My daughter is nineteen years of age. She has lots of belching and pains in the stomach and vomiting. What would you suggest?

Answer: There are many possible causes for a condition of this type, such as disorders affecting the stomach, bowel, gallbladder, or liver.

A thorough study is needed, including X-rays of the stomach, bowel, and gallbladder. Until the cause is found, proper treatment could not be advised.

Give Equal Rights to Ghosts

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, —(P)— There is a classic yarn of a jittery ghost who went to see a psychiatrist "Doc, you've got to do something for me quick—I'm a nervous wreck," complained the spook.

Hal Boyle

"I keep seeing people!" the ghost replied, biting its nails. And that is one of the big troubles with being a ghost. As soon as it sees people — and as soon as they see it—well, they just won't let a ghost alone. They bother the life out of them.

A case in point is "Mrs. It," the ghost of a dear old lady named Mrs. Gladys Drury who died 18 years ago in a fire old Victorian home near Bristol, England.

The William Baber family moved into the house in 1937. Reports vary as to how they stirred up Mrs. Drury's ghost. One story said they opened the room in which she died—in violation of a clause in the lease that it should remain locked. Another story said the ghost appeared after they opened a chest in which Mrs. Drury's trunks had been stored.

In any event Baber said the ghost began appearing at 6 A. M., every morning and following members of the family around. Also, he said, she woke up the children.

He asked the city council either to find him a new home—or get rid of the ghost. So a young vicar of the Church of England was called in to exercise poor Mrs. Drury's spectral figure by ancient rites.

Somehow this whole business seems grossly unfair. Shouldn't ghosts have equal rights with people?

The average ghost is much less trouble than the average week end guest. It doesn't eat you out of house and home, it doesn't run up the electric light bill by reading late at night. It doesn't borrow money from you. All it wants to do is to haunt the house in its own quiet way.

Take poor ghostly Mrs. Drury's. Who was she hurting? what if she did pad around after the family at 6 A. M.? She was probably lonely from prowling the house by herself. Instead of calling in the vicar, wouldn't it have been nicer to borrow a ghost from some other haunted house to keep her company? They could play canasta by the light of the moon. Think how grateful dear Mrs. Drury would be to the new tenants.

And one has to take with a grain of salt the charge that she woke the Baber children up early. After all, isn't it more likely the kids had been disturbing her ghostly slumber during the day with their childish prattle?

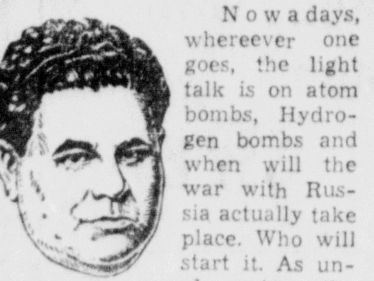

If they gave her any welcome at all, wouldn't she probably jump at the opportunity to be their baby sitter? She could keep them entertained for hours just appearing and disappearing in a soft phosphorescent glow.

Personally, I'll be glad to take "Mrs. It" into my own home—if she can get a visa and transatlantic passage. She'd be less of a nuisance than the noisy neighbors who haunt my house now. Don't ghosts deserve even the ghost of a chance?

Come on over, "Mrs. It"—if you don't mind central heating.

Americans Worried for First Time By George E. Sokolsky

It used to be that club-car, drawing room and other chitchat conversations were on such pleasant subjects as the character of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the foibles of Harry Hopkins, the ineptitude of Republicans. It was possible to spend a pleasant evening away from the radio on the delectable subject of the virtues of Dame Eleanor Roosevelt or the tribulations of Henry Wallace.

Now a days, wherever one goes, the light talk is on atom bombs, hydrogen bombs and when will the war with Russia actually take place. Who will start it. As unpleasant as the subject is, particularly at a dinner table, it persists because for the first time, our people are really worried. We were not worried in 1939 or even in 1941. We had defeated the Germans once; as for the Japanese, it would be a pushover.

We discovered that neither the Nazi nor the Japanese were easy to defeat and the cost of it is only now becoming a realistic fact in everybody's daily life. And what is more, the cost of it all seems to have become a permanent burden upon each of us individually in so many ways, that war cannot be taken lightly, to say nothing of blithely.

Formosa, while of itself of little importance, has in some ways become a symbol of this worry. For whereas there was a limited emotional response to the loss of Poland and more to the loss of Czechoslovakia, the immensity of the total loss of China has shocked our people and brought the danger of war closer to home. Not that China is nearer than Czechoslovakia, but it has raised the question: "When will the snowball stop rolling?"

The answer naturally is that snowballs in history never stop rolling. They are stopped. Something has to stop them. Alexander, Caesar, Attila, Genghis Khan, Charles V. Suleiman, Napoleon, Hitler—they were all stopped. By resistance, by disintegration, by death.

In 1932, I wrote a book, "The Tinderbox of Asia," in which I said: "like a massive snowball, increasing in size as it has rolled on, Russia has been moving eastward in Siberia since Yermak, a Cossack Freebooter, crossed the Urals in the sixteenth century and saw the rich country on the eastern side of the divide. Russia did not require this vast domain for any economic purpose. There was no congestion of population in Russia; there was no scarcity of food supplies or of raw materials. Nor had Russia developed an industry and commerce which required new markets—by the force of racial momentum he and his successors wandered on, conquering the indigenous population, until they reached the Pacific and founded there the city of Vladivostok."

The resistance, up to World War II, to the land-hunger of Russia was Germany on the west, Japan on the east, and the British Empire on the south (from the Mediterranean to Afghanistan and Tibet). At Yalta, this resistance was destroyed by agreement among Stalin, Roosevelt and Churchill.

It is possible that neither Roosevelt nor Churchill quite realized the permanent import of their improvisations at Yalta. But I make the point, in all humility, that if one who is not a high government official with wide access to data, but only a newspaper reporter, could, as far back as 1932, point, as I then did in this book, to the consequences of a Russian domination of China—they should have had the knowledge and preception to realize it.

So, in these conversations to which I referred earlier in this piece, questions arise: "must Russia be stopped?" "How and when?" "Who will do it?"

The last question must be answered first: only the United States can stop Russia, if the will to resist is there. No other country possesses the wealth, the manpower or the industrial capacity to do the job, nor do their peoples at this time, possess the will to resist the Russians or to engage in a third, and obviously, more devastating enterprise of this nature.

Having answered that one, all else fits into place; that is, if we have to do it alone, what is there of a physical and spiritual character to do it with? That will be discussed further in this column.

The leader, Mrs. C. L. Musser, opened the meeting by reading a poem written by Kagarva, the great Japanese Christian, which was followed by devotionals.

During the business session, Mrs. Musser welcomed to the group two guests, Mrs. Harold Braden and Mrs. John F. Bath. The aims of the group were read by Miss Marie Marchant, followed by discussions regarding plans for the year, and various committees were appointed. Mrs. Fuller Jefferson read from the year Book of Prayer and led in prayer for the missionaries. An article, entitled "The House On Sacramento Street" was read by Mrs. Robert Smith.

A dialogue in two parts was given by Mrs. J. Ray Farley and Mrs. Archie McCullough, on an Eskimo missionary being interviewed by an interested American in Alaska. The title of the short playlet was "An Interview With Mr. Akootchook."

Two beautiful vocal solos "The Beautitudes" by Mallotti and "Fly Birdie Fly" by Hartman, were sung by Miss Elsa Petersen, accompanied by Mrs. Russell Gebelhouse. The meeting was closed with the Mizpah benediction, and Mrs. Albert Bryant invited the members to her home for the February meeting.

Delicious refreshments were served to twenty members and guests by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. Frederick Woollard, Mrs. Paul Dougherty, Mrs. Fuller Jefferson, Mrs. Frank Dawson and Mrs. Richard Rankin.

Eightieth Birthday Of Mrs. Neal Honored

Mrs. Rosa Neal, 805 Van Deman Avenue, was the guest of honor Thursday evening at a covered dish dinner which was arranged as a complete surprise, complimenting her on her eightieth birthday anniversary. The event, planned by her daughter Mrs. Ross Hunter, included only members of Mrs. Neal's immediate family. Among the lovely gifts she received was a corsage of pink and white carnations presented her by two of her grandchildren Marjorie and Darrell Hunter. Those sharing pleasures in the happy event were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Weimer, son Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haynes, son Danny, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Hunter, daughter Marjorie and son Darrell of this city and Mr. and Mrs. Howard King of Columbus. Mrs. Neal accompanied the Kings to their home where she will again be honored on Sunday at a family dinner.

County Tourney Opens Feb. 16 On WHS Floor

Each of 4 Schools
To Enter Teams in
All Three Divisions

Preliminary arrangements for the annual Fayette County High School Basketball Tournament today were just about completed while the race for the honors in the regular schedule of games grew hotter by the day.

The tourney is to open Feb. 16 in the Washington C. H. High School gymnasium—the biggest in the county.

As has been the custom for several years, the tournament will again be a three-fold event with Junior High School, Reserve and Varsity squads all in action.

The first round of games is to be played on the evenings of Feb. 16 and 17. Then there is to be a week's recess before the battles are renewed the following Thursday night, Feb. 23, where play is to be resumed.

No games are slated for Friday night, Feb. 24. But the finals will be played on Saturday night, Feb. 25.

Could Go Extra Day

It is possible that the Varsity tourney could run into still another night of play and if it does the champion would not be crowned until the following Monday night when the two contenders would meet for the final.

The Junior and Reserve tournaments are to be of the double-elimination type, but the double-elimination system is to be followed again for the Varsity tourney. In the double-elimination, a team is not out of the running until defeated twice.

Drawings for the first rounds of play probably will be right after completion of the regular season's schedule, about Feb. 6.

With each of the county's four high schools — Jeffersonville, Bloomington, Good Hope and Madison Mills—entering teams in all three divisions of the tourney, jam-packed crowds are expected for all four days of play.

It was because WHS gym is the biggest in the county and is centrally located, that it was chosen again for the tournament. Besides, it provides a neutral floor, which some feel eliminates possible advantages to any team.

Normally, more than 1,200 can be accommodated in the gym, using both bleachers and balcony,

Scouts Make Plans for Jamboree

FAYETTE COUNTY SCOUT leaders meet with members of 1950 Boy Scout Jamboree Committee to discuss plans for Valley Forge jamboree, to be held June 28 to July 8 near Philadelphia. The leaders are inspecting a kitchen chest, one of the pieces of equipment which will accompany the Scouts. Those shown above, reading from left to right, are: Tom Mark and Jack White of Fayette County; Dr. Edward Chapman of Columbus, vice chairman of the jamboree committee, and Gill Bolin, staff advisor, Central Ohio Area Council.

Jack White, Fayette County member of the 1950 Boy Scout Jamboree committee, and Tom Mark were in Columbus this week completing plans for registering Fayette County Scouts who will attend the International Scout Jamboree. The jamboree will be held at historic Valley Forge near Philadelphia June 28 through July 8.

The assigned quota of nine scouts over 12 years of age from this county will become a part of the encampment of 40,000 boys but the tournament crowds are expected to exceed that.

Thomas Is Manager

Harold Thomas, superintendent of the Good Hope Schools, is the tournament manager this year. It is his first year in the Fayette County system. He came to Good Hope last fall from Leesburg.

Jim Strausbaugh, a former Ohio State sports star, and Tom Vernia, both of Chillicothe, are to officiate at the tournament. Supt. Thomas said they had handled few, if any, games in which Fayette County teams have played this season. He explained that Strausbaugh and Vernia had been selected on the basis of their record and because they have been working together and have their own coordinated system of covering the floor and calling the fouls worked out through experience.

from throughout the world participating in the greatest worldwide scout camp in history, marking the fortieth anniversary of the Scout Movement.

On returning from the Jamboree committee meeting, White said, "This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for a limited number of scouts in Fayette County." Although the quota has been set at nine, I have requested that it be increased to accommodate the

Lions at London Friday; Cincy Here Saturday

A few changes in tactics are going to be sprung by the WHS Lions against London and Cincinnati Western Hills in this weekend's heavy schedule.

The Lions have been polishing up their platoon attack and have been experimenting with a modified zone defense for the battles coming up this Friday and Saturday.

Coach Steve Lewis switched the Lions to the zone because of the small court on which the team will be playing at the London Armory Friday night.

The tall London cagers have used a zone defense in building up a winning record this season. With most of the varsity back, the London lads are much stronger than they were last year in losing to the Lions in a 39-38 thriller.

Cincy Here Saturday
The Lions will get little rest after they finish the London task. Lewis' boys will take the home court this Saturday night to play host to the cagers from Cincinnati Western Hills.

The Lions stand an excellent chance of breaking back into the win column against the Cincinnati team.

Western Hills has been winning with regularity but is not in the same class with some of the hotter teams the Lions have faced. The Cincinnati school has beaten Hillsboro, 55-45; triumphed over Walnut Hills, 43-40; lost to Cincinnati Purcell, 41-31 and also to Roger Bacon, 42-25, to give an idea of their scoring.

The Lions have averaged 42 points a game in winning one game, over Wilmington, while losing nine. The WHS opposition has averaged 53.9 points per game.

Lions' Defense Weak
These figures indicate that the Lions' foes have also been controlling the backboard, as a rule, and have piled up a raft of buckets on tap-ins.

To remedy this, Lewis has been drilling his boys long and hard on a few fundamentals that go along with their new style of play.

Since the platoon system enables to Lions to keep complete fresh teams in play, Lewis has had the boys concentrating on picking up their men early. He has also been stressing the need for fighting for the ball on rebounds, probably the most important single factor in deciding ballgames.

There isn't a fan hereabouts who won't admit that the WHS cagers have been playing their hearts out this season. They've lost to tough opponents: Findlay, rated third best in all of Ohio; Ashland, rated tenth and Dayton, rated eleventh.

Lions' Progress Shows

As individuals, for the most part, and as a team, the Lions opened this season in the learning stage against topflight competition. They lost a lot of games, but their opponents knew they'd been in a ballgame.

One thing no one can give a team is heart. They've got to have that when they start out. The coach can train and drill them to exhaustion, but a spiritless team is beaten from the start.

The Lions have come a long way from the outset of the season. Coach Lewis has been patiently working to coordinate the team, to train it in teamwork and the split-second decisions of the game.

But he also helped to bring out something else in the team which needs as much attention in any group working together. That is a fighting spirit that refuses to be beaten. With diligent patience and encouragement wisely placed, he has helped make a team with guts—something which can sometimes overcome an opponent's experience.

Fans Boost Morale

The faithful fans of Washington C. H. can also take credit for keeping up the team's morale. They know they're rooting for a team that's scrapping every minute.

The Reserves, though much shorter on playing experience, have been building up the same qualities under Coach Ron Guinn.

The Reserves have promising

Doubleheader Is Divided by Co. M Cagers

Company M's basketball team broke even in Thursday night's doubleheader at the Armory here. In the opener, the Guardsmen were swamped, 73 to 37, by the Buck & Red outfit from Greenfield. They came back in the second game, however, to whip the Sabina Independents, 54 to 21.

McMillan was the thorn in the side of the Guardsmen in the first game. He racked up 12 fielders and four free throws for a 28-point total. That was just twice as many as Grimm, the Company M high scorer, registered.

The Guardsmen just couldn't get the range of the basket. The Greenfielders scored six times before the home boys got their first bucket.

Sunnyside Cagers Conquer Central

Sunnyside strengthened its reign as unbeaten leader of the Elementary League with 23 to 14 win over Central at the Armory Thursday.

Sunnyside meant to make it short and sweet in taking a quick 8-1 lead at the quarter and led at halftime, 12-14. But Central rallied in the last half as their crowd of faithful followers, cheered them on.

The Central surge was short-lived, however, as the Sunnyside teamwork proved superior. Ackley and Phillips led Sunnyside with six points apiece, while Belles was high for Central with six, also.

form of a double pivot play. If this works as well in the game as it did in practice, the Reserves will be a rejuvenated ball team.

Rettig, Dawson and Grillo have been showing improvement in their ballhandling and in following up rebounds, so the Reserves can be expected to make a good showing in the game this weekend.

Kute Kiddies Lead Merchants League

Vic Smith's Kute Kiddies are making it tough for the rest of the teams in the Merchants League to catch them. They made another clean sweep in Thursday night's bowling at Bowland. The Producers were their victims.

But, the Kiddies were no better off than before they took the Althaus; for the second Place Thumas kept right on their heels with a three-game victory over the Pepsi Colas.

Individual and team scores in both matches were just about average.

New Cage League Gets Place To Play

The new Recreation Basketball League has become a reality.

The four-team loop, of questionable status the past few weeks because of the lack of a place to play, got the green light Thursday.

Captain Darrell Williams, headman at the Armory here, said that the Armory floor would be made available to the league for a couple of games each week.

This "okay" alleviated the fears of many idle players here who thought for awhile that there just wasn't any place to play basketball in WCH. The Armory has had a

Industrial League Paced by Warners

Warner's Servicemen eased a little further out in front in the Industrial League when they made a clean sweep of their match with the Jeffersonville Merchants while the second place Henry Coalmen were winning but two of three from the Med-O-Pure Dairymen in Thursday night's bowling at Bowland.

Fred Jones of the Warner crew turned in a 576 for the high individual score.

Both of the other matches resulted in split decisions. Wise's Clothiers took the last two games from the Barger Brothers after losing the opener by two pins and the Greenfield entry won the last two from Moore's Jolly Boys after being swamped in the first game.

More Than 130 At Paint Farm Bureau Meeting

Turkey Dinner Is Served to Members
In Bloomingburg

Some 130 members of the Paint Township Farm Bureau held their annual turkey supper and meeting at the Bloomingburg High School building Thursday.

A full course of roast turkey, dressing, rolls, potatoes, salads, cake, pie and coffee was served.

In the business part of the evening's program, Frank Green was reelected chairman. Charles Cook was picked as vice chairman and Ellsworth Vannorsdall was elected secretary.

Howard Hopkins president of the Farm Bureau, stressed the importance of membership work being done during the Farm Bureau organization week.

W. W. Montgomery, county agent, reported on the extension program in Paint Township during the past year. He reported the following accomplishments: boys 4-H clubs, 2; girls 4-H clubs, 3; sewing projects, 21; nutrition projects, 18; beef calf projects, 6; pig club, 5; dairy calf, 2.

He said there was a total of 52 4-H projects carried out in the township. Advisors for the 4-H work were Mrs. Lon Chatin, Mrs. Jane Miller, Mildred Simerl, Lee Cleland and John Cook.

Home demonstration work completed was reported. Among the projects completed by the women were working out schemes for adding color in the home, room arrangement, aluminum tray making and short cuts in baking.

$10,000 SUIT FILED

Wilbur Rogers has filed a suit for $10,000 against Winston W. Hill, whom he said he had engaged as his attorney in a divorce suit brought by Marie Rogers. Rogers states that an adverse judgement was awarded in the divorce case, and his wife was awarded a half interest in his farm valued at $16,000. Rogers was also ordered to pay $5 a week for the support of a minor child. The case was appealed to the Common Pleas Court of Fayette County. Rogers states that the appeal was dismissed July 5, 1949 because the defendant, W. W. Hill, failed and neglected to file briefs and assignments of error as provided by court rules. William W. Richards of Dayton is the attorney for the plaintiff.

New Minister Installed Here

Reception for 400
Held After Ceremony

Rev. Harold J. Braden was officially installed Thursday night as the new minister of the First Presbyterian Church here, at a ceremony conducted by the Columbus Presbytery.

A large crowd was on hand for the ceremony. Rev. Raymond E. Dronsfeld, moderator of the Presbytery of Columbus, presided.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors for the purpose of allowing the new minister to meet members not only of the Presbyterian Church, but other churches in this city.

Some 400 persons went through the reception line, made up largely of church officers. Mrs. Charles Reinke and Mrs. C. H. Thoroman poured tea while ladies of the Westminster Guild served it to those at the reception.

The installation sermon was delivered by Dr. Ganse Little, pastor of the Broad Street Presbyterian Church in Columbus.

Rev. Frederick E. Christian, pastor of the Indianola Presbyterian Church in Columbus, read the charge to the pastor, and Rev. Ivan L. Wilkins, General Presbyter from Columbus, read the charge to the people.

Rev. Allan M. Peterson, pastor of the Bloomingburg and McNair Presbyterian Churches, read the scripture lesson. The benediction was given by Rev. Braden.

One of the highlights of the evening was the tea and reception held for the new minister and his wife.

Mrs. Ormond Dewey was general chairman in charge of the arrangements. She was assisted by Mrs. Helen Elliott, Mrs. Mary Jane Gardner, Mrs. Paul Vannoorhis, Mrs. Walter Rettig, Mrs. Frank Dawson, Mrs. Fred Rost and Mrs. Nancy Branden.

Flowers used in the decoration for the center of the tea table were of spring variation. The same theme of spring flowers was carried out in the color of the napkins. Cookies and sandwiches were served.

Big Response Here For Salvation Army

"Fayette Countians are generous people."

That would probably be the remark of more than one thankful needy family if all the contributions to the Salvation Army were labeled with their source.

About 70 families here responded generously to an appeal for household goods and clothing that will be distributed to destitute families by the Salvation Army.

The SA truck made its regular monthly visit here Thursday and returned to Columbus filled with a variety of useful contributions.

In fact, so many calls were received that SA truck will return here Friday and probably Saturday to complete the collection, Miss Jean Everhart, secretary to County Supt. of Schools W. J. Hilty, said.

All kinds of household goods, including furniture and kitchen chairs, clothing and shoes, were collected by the Salvation Army truck, Miss Everhart said.

Call slips on stops made by the truck are returned to Miss Everhart at the end of the day. Thursday afternoon she had just a bare handful out of the batch picked up that morning by the SA men.

Your prescribed medicine, whether prepared in liquid, capsule or powder form is always the product of the same unerring precision . . . the same meticulous attention to detail. Yes, in every case, our pharmacists expend the utmost measure of care and skill, checking and re-checking every step of their procedures. That is why, whatever its finished form, your prescribed medicine will always be just what your doctor intended.

"IS THIS TRIP NECESSARY?" you were asked in 1941, when every inch of space was needed for troops and war supplies.

To discourage travel then, a tax was added on your travel dollar, a tax that grew to 15% during the war. The Federal Government collected it through the railroads. The Government still collects it, though your travel need not be rationed now.

Today, the original purpose of this tax is as obsolete as an Air Warden's helmet. But, four years after the war's end, YOU are still paying the Government at the rate of $250,000,000 a year in travel tax.

And, of the billion and three quarters collected since 1941, over half came out of your pocket after the green light on travel went on again.

You don't have food rationing today . . . you don't have gasoline rationing today.

Yet, a very real brake is still being put on travel. On a coach trip from New York to Chicago, for example, YOU are still paying $4.61 in Federal tax.

And the same with the goods that are shipped to your home community. On every dollar you pay for freight, you pay the Government an extra 3 cents (4¢ a ton on coal). That means YOU are still paying over $300,000,000 a year —freight tax alone.

This tax should be repealed NOW. There is no longer any reason you should pay $1.15 for every dollar's worth of travel . . . $1.03 for every dollar of railroad freight.
